PAPER TITLE (14 pt. – centered – all capital letters – bold)

Abstract

(Must be no more than 300 words) While writing the abstract of the study, it is necessary to state the subject briefly in one or two sentences, and then specify the research objective. It should be explained how the concepts and variables used in the research were measured, the sampling technique, the population from which the data was collected, where and how the data was collected, and how it was analyzed. In addition, the main findings and implications/recommendations of the research should be described.

Keywords: The keywords should reflect the content of the study and consist of a maximum of 5 words. Avoid using descriptive phrases of 3-4 words as "keywords."

1. INTRODUCTION

The subject is reduced from general to specific. The importance of the subject can be mentioned in the last paragraph of the introduction. In this mention; who or what type of tourism does the subject concern, how can it contribute to whom, how valuable and meaningful is it for which dimension of tourism, etc. should be considered and written.

2. FIRST LEVEL (MAIN) TITLE:

It should be used for the main sections of the study. A maximum of three first level headings, and second and third level headings as needed should be used in the paper.

Second Level Heading

Written in paragraphs. One paragraph explanation should be avoided under headings; at least three paragraph explanations should be possible (if possible).

Third level heading: Explanations should be continued after a colon, without making a paragraph.

3.METHOD:

(Maximum 500 words) In the method section of the study, the following issues should be explained in a certain flow, in short sentences and without using too many words.

4.FINDINGS and DISCUSSION:

The findings of the study should be presented with clear, understandable and short expressions as much as possible. Tables, graphics and figures should not be used except for the most necessary ones.

5.CONCLUSION and RECOMMENDATIONS:

In this section; the findings should be interpreted. It should be known that it is better to make the comments in question by considering the literature, without forgetting the fact that the comment is subjective. In the extended summary; the conclusion can be written under three or four subheadings.

REFERENCES

All sources cited in the text are collected under the REFERENCES heading. APA rules apply in citing and organizing the references.
